EP 1975-76: 487

The European Parliament,

- having regard to the inauguration of a regular passenger service by the Concorde aircraft on Wednesday, 24 January 1976,

1. Wishes to place on record its high regard for the unique achievement of two European aircraft manufacturing firms, Aérospatiale and the British Aircraft Corporation, for the way in which they have so effectively collaborated over many years to produce an aircraft of unique design and performance;
2. Wishes to congratulate the two European airlines, British Airways and Air France, on their enterprise in introducing Concorde aircraft into service and wishes the companies every success in this manifestation of European commercial and technological expertise.
